NVZ RULES – In Field Muck Heaps

Farmers need to be careful they do not breach NVZ Rules when storing Muck in Fields with Land Drains. In January 2012 NVZ Rules will outlaw Muck Heaps stored within 10 metres of Land Drains and codes of Agricultural Practice already include this.

The rules require Farmers to store solid manure on an impermeable concrete platform collecting any run off which must be treated as slurry, or within an appropriately located “field heap”

This must not be within 10 metres of a land drain or within 50 metres of a Borehole.

Farmers in NVZ area are required to complete Risk Assessment Maps for spreading manure on fields and this should include which ones are land drained and the exact areas for field heaps.

You should not store manure on land likely to water log or flood, or have a heap in a single position for more than 12 months.
